

CALLING ALL BOOK LOVERS

Thalia Henry grew up in Karitane, Otago, amongst the rugged physical and psychological landscapes of the South Island high country which became the back drop for her debut novel.

Thalia Henry, Beneath Pale Water

This is a story about three damaged individuals- a sculptor, a vagrant and a model- who have grown calcified shells against the world. It follows their search for indentity and belonging, and how it leads them into dangerous territory that threatens both their sanity and lives.

Bring a friend and join us for morning tea at this free monthly event:

Wednesday 25 April, 10:30 - 11:30am

Brand new community centre
Meadowbank Village, 154 Meadowbank Road

Upcoming authors at oceaniahealthcare.co.nz/booklovers

RSVP at 0800 333 688 or booklovers@oceaniahealthcare.co.nz

OCEANIA
HEALTHCARE